NATURAL STONE SLATES

Cotswold stone is known throughout the world as one of the most beautiful and durable of all building materials. Huntsmans traditional slates and walling stone bring you the timeless beauty and warm colouring of a stone laid down 160 million years ago.

Huntsmans slates are hand-made in our own quarry using individually selected beds of Jurassic limestone. Every tile is unique and hand-dressed by our own craftsmen.

The stone is typically 1" (22 mm) thick and produces slates from 6" to 24" (150mm - 600mm) of varying widths. This creates opportunities for a number of interesting and traditional laying patterns.

Slates can be sold individually, by the metre-run or by the 'square' (ie. 10' x 10' [3.0m x 3.0m]). Large orders are supplied shrink-wrapped on pallets or in crates.
